Posting my refund request here: Game isn't actually, or rather doesn't feel fast paced or old school, ai has pinpoint hitscan accuracy which normally wouldn't be a problem, many old school shooters like doom have this, except for the fact that you don't have any accuracy, far from it. You have to aim down the sights which slows down your movement, takes up half the screen and in general feels like a pain to do If you intend to hip fire good luck with that, because your accuracy without it is a joke, and don't forget you only have a few seconds to do it before the enemies will kill you. You can't even run and run with the machine gun! Speaking of running, you have to hold down shift to sprint! You can hold it down for as long as you want, there's no penalty for doing it either, what's the point? Why not just have yourself set to always run? I wanna sprint automatically and shoot enemies without having to aim down the sights. Just a little nitpick. The shooting itself is subpar, there's no ragdoll physics, no enemies flinching when attacking and no gore, just some pixel blood sprays and a death animation that plays with it when you kill an enemy, no fun in that. Graphics are nice though, I really do like the choice of weapon designs used, they look clean and pretty. I could forgive the lack of options, the terrible music, the extremely linear level design but when the gameplay is held back by such things, that's when you have a bad game.. This game is horrendous. The controls and gunplay are awkward, the weapons feel broken and unresponsive, but my main complaint is actually how hard it is. The game gives you 1000 health, and about 100 bullets to start out with, but in a single encounter, you're probably going to lose about 200 health, and 40 bullets. I like challenging games, but this game is so unbalanced that the only challenge is keeping your sanity long enough to hit 20 headshots in a row with an automatic weapon with zero accuracy. The levels have minor exploration, but for the most part is just really linear with almost no depth. I can't recommend this game to anyone.. Crimson Metal is a 90s throwback that brings the old mechanics and formulas of Quake and Doom in modern times. The lack of a budget is obvious, and the game could be better, but still it's a great fun.. Pros: 1.Cheap-Got it on sale for $3.49. 2. Steam cards and they are worth 10 cents plus each 3. Very hard/challenge Cons: 1.Graphics are not that good 2.Lots of bugs 3.Only one difficulty setting Game is not worth full price. I only recommend the game if its on sale.. What on earth did I just play. The lighting is darker than my soul. I don't know how to recommend this game really.
